CORE CONTEMPORARY HOSTS
“OUT OF THIS WORLD”
AN LGBTQI+ ART SHOW

October 1 – October 30, 2021

LAS VEGAS – Curators Tracy D. Skinner, Nancy Good and Brian Paco Alvarez are pleased to present “OUT of This World!”, a sci-fi, space, aliens-themed LGBTQI+ art exhibition opening at Core Contemporary on First Friday, October 1st, with additional opening reception to be held on October 2nd, 2021, from 6-9pm.

Curated and produced by local arts and social justice advocates Tracy D. Skinner, Nancy Good and Brian Paco Alvarez, this exhibition will host local and national artists, representing all mediums of art from modern portraits to sculptural design. Exhibiting artists include: David Fay, Jim Guevara, Danny Jacobs, Kamora Jones, Christopher Labine, Jr., Jim McCoy, Avery Ricky Mitchell, Elee Oak, Jeffery Renz, Luis Soto Jr, Kris Toxn, Chris Trujillo, Maddi Godard, and Gear Duran.

A special reception celebrating National Coming Out Day will be hosted with special guests TBA on October 11, 2020 from 6-9pm, including artists talks, “Coming Out” stories, and support from Gender Justice Nevada. Special treats from the newest gourmet donut shop in Las Vegas – Wicked Donuts, will also be featured.

All funds from art purchases go to support the artists, and local nonprofits Gender Justice Nevada and Core Arts Concord, Inc.

Better suited to more mature audiences, “OUT of This World” is on display October 1-30, 2021, from 12-4pm, Wednesdays through Saturdays. Core Contemporary Gallery is located at 900 E Karen Ave, Suite D-222, Las Vegas, NV 89109 and is free to attend.

About Core Contemporary/Core Arts Concord, Inc. Core Contemporary was created to fill the need for a full-time, free-to-the-public, fully-accessible contemporary art gallery within the community of Las Vegas. Core Arts Concord, Inc. was created as the nonprofit arm of the gallery, further supporting the full mission of providing strong exhibition programming of emerging and mid-career contemporary artists, site-specific art installations, performance art, artist development opportunities and mentorship, residency program, on-site art classes, art advisory and new collector education, partnerships with UNLV's School of Fine Arts, local schools and other regional arts entities, and performance and private events venue. <https://www.corecontemporary.com> & <https://www.coreartsconcord.org>

About Gender Justice Nevada Gender Justice Nevada is dedicated to an intersectional approach to changing law, policy, and attitudes so that all Nevadans can live safely, authentically and free from fear, violence and mistreatment regardless of their sex/gender identity or expression. Committed to the pursuit of the liberation for all oppressed persons in our state and beyond, we recognize that no person is just one identity. We strive to center the needs and experiences of the most marginalized members of our communities as well as work for partnerships and shared efforts with traditionally isolated progressive movements. We bring about change in a variety of ways while working in concert with others to help ensure intersectional needs are met. <https://genderjusticenv.org/>

About Psionic Art Works Psionic Art Works (pronounced /sī'ānik/) is the brainchild of its founder Brian "Paco" Álvarez. Paco as he is affectionately called, made the decision in 2020 to finally take his more than 20 years of experience in the cultural arts and create a dynamic and disruptive company that will change how the world interacts with art, culture and the creative industries. Paco and his diverse teams' years of experience, education, careers in government and the private sector give Psionic Art Works a level of knowledge unmatched in the industry. Psionic Art Works is your one stop shop for all your cultural and artistic needs in Las Vegas and beyond. <https://psionicartworks.com/>
